Study favors commercial zoning areas

More than half of the residents of portions of Madison Avenue and Pontoon and Johnson Roads, where residents strongly preferred commercial zoning to residential, 21 to 3. Thirty-nine homes were called on, but 15 families were not at home in those blocks.

On Pontoon Road between Franklin Avenue and Maryville Road, residents voted 11 to 3 in favor of commercial zoning, Kaegel said, concluding, "Overwhelmingly, the residents of Pontoon and Johnson really prefer commercial."

He admitted that the survey dealt only with the properties facing those busy streets and the residents of abutting properties were not consulted. "It would have been too big a job in the time we had," Kaegel said.

On Madison Avenue, of those residents reached who had an opinion, the number favoring commercial zoning exceeded those favoring residential, Kaegel said. In the 2600 block, the vote was 11 to 7; in the 2700 block, it was 13 to 6; in the 2800 block, commercial zoning was preferred 22 to 3. In the 2900 block, however, 10 families wanted residential zoning and eight wanted commercial zoning.

The city's new zoning ordinance and map, which lists the zoning for Nameoki, Johnson and Madison Avenue "status quo," primarily residential, was placed on first reading by the city council Sept. 22 and is to be considered for final passage Tuesday night. The council will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the township hall, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue.

Port Week underway

By GARY SCHNEIDER of the Press-Record

The observance of Port of Metropolitan St. Louis Week began today and will feature special tours and displays throughout the week, including open house sessions at the Tri-Cities Regional Port and Lock 27.

Special activities were to begin this afternoon at 8:30 p.m. when Illinois Senator Sam Nadelberg, of the tugboat "Senator Sam," and Missouri Lt. Gov. Kenneth Rothman, of the U.S. Corps of Engineers boat "Patfinder," were scheduled to meet in the middle of the Mississippi River to proclaim the observance and "to dramatize the cooperation between the states of Missouri and Illinois, the port districts and private industry, which has made St. Louis the largest port in the Midwest," according to the Bi-State Development Agency.

Following the mid-river ceremony, Nadelberg and Rothman were to travel on the "Patfinder" to the Gateway Arch and then go to Eads Landing for a ceremony on the top deck of the parking garage at 4 p.m. Scheduled there was a brief meeting of the Port Advisory Council, refreshments and inductions into the newly-formed Gateway Navy.

More than 1,000 area high school seniors are scheduled to visit the local port and Locks 27 Tuesday and Wednesday and Thursday has been

GC unemployment at 12.5%

Unemployment continues to plague the Quad-City area as the number of persons seeking work in the local area and throughout Madison County continues to exceed the state average of eight percent.

The unemployment rate in Granite City climbed nearly two percent to 12.5 percent during August, according to preliminary figures released by the Illinois Department of Labor.

Granite City's unemployment rate is second only to Belleville's among the larger cities in Madison and St. Clair counties. Alton's unemployment rate is 10.4 percent and East St. Louis has only 10 percent of the workers seeking work. Belleville was high among the larger cities with an unemployment rate of 12.6 percent.

According to figures compiled by B.L. Worden of the research and analysis section of the Department of Labor, 16,874 Granite City workers are employed while 2,406 are seeking work. That is an increase among those unemployed of nearly 400 workers from the 2,024 unemployed in the final July figures, which showed unemployment in July at 10.7 percent.

In Madison County, 11,287 workers, or 8.7 percent of the work force of 117,077 persons, was unemployed according to the preliminary August figures. That is still above the state average unemployment of 8.0 percent, Worden said.

The number of unemployed in Madison County increased from 10,110 in July to 11,287 in August while the work force increased from 116,136 to

A SLOW START to this year's United Way campaign did not deter from the optimism of general campaign chairman Melvin Wilmseyer during the first report meeting Friday afternoon. Wilmseyer is shown with the tote board which shows that only 9.5 percent of the drive's $695,000 was raised during the first two weeks of the campaign, but he predicted that 60 percent of the goal will be reached by the next report meeting Oct. 16.

Sluggish start for United Way

Contributions to the United Way are lagging in the Quad-City area and volunteers are being urged to "go out with determination and get it done."

That was the charge given by volunteers at the first report meeting of this year's United Way campaign Friday afternoon in the YMCA. The charge was given by Melvin C. Wilmseyer, drive chairman, when reports from the five division vice-chairmen showed that the drive had reached only 9.5 percent of its $695,000 goal in the first two weeks.

Wilmseyer noted that at the first report meeting last year, $139,191, or 20.3 percent of the goal, had been reached. "We are well behind the pace so far last year. On the business end, some boards of directors have not yet met, so that is slowing down (collections from) the business area," he noted.

This year's goal is $695,000, of which $66,248 has been raised, the first report meeting showed. The highest division, percentage-wise, in meeting its goal was Division A, covering clubs, organizations and special donors, which had collected $2,573 in donations and pledges, or 32.2 percent of its goal of $8,000. Barry Lomen is vice-chairman of that division.

Harold Davis, vice-chairman of Division B, which is for professional, business and private non-profit organizations, reported pledges and

Grand jury asks in report for 'more time'

One of the best-kept secrets in Madison County is what topic the grand jury have been studying. Whatever the topic is, and county officials hint it may deal with "official corruption," must be interesting, as the second grand jury in a row has asked that the four-month term for which grand juries are empaneled be extended due to "insufficient time in which to gather information concerning certain criminal activity," according to the final report of the last grand jury.

The 23-member grand jury which ended its session late last month also recommended that at least five members of each grand jury be retained for the following grand jury term, a recommendation also made by the previous grand jury. "We find that such action would allow continuity for certain on-going criminal investigations currently under investigation by this grand jury," the group which disbanded last month suggested.

The grand jury which ended its session last week included five Quad-City area residents—Gail Stickford, Cindy Kirschner and Ricky Westbrook, all of Granite City, and Virginia Bonderfer and Eugene Dunnivant, both of Madison.

The new grand jury, empaneled Sept. 20, includes eight Quad-City area residents, including the foreman, Virginia Jane Oram of Granite City. Others are Henry Ashauer Jr., Bernard Jenkins, Doris Teetor, Harriet Mercer, and Charles E. Bone, all of Granite City, Robert Mosley Jr. of Madison and Ronald White of Venice.

Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber said Friday that he could not comment on the grand jury's activities, but did comment, "In the areas of rapes, murders and other crimes, four months is plenty for a grand jury. It is in the official corruption areas that you need more time for the grand jury."

He declined to elaborate or to say what area of the county may be involved, if there is an investigation of official corruption underway.

In an apparently unrelated action, the outgoing grand jury recommended that State's Attorney Don Weber ask the Illinois Department of Public Health to begin termination proceedings against Anthony Momoh, an aide in the county's sexually-transmitted disease clinic. Momoh was found innocent in a trial this summer of fending one woman patient, but is awaiting trial on similar allegations by two other women patients.

The grand jury also commended Assistant State's Attorney Randy Massey for his cooperation with the grand jury and for his work and "persistent efforts" in protecting a child from a potential abuse situation. One thing studied by this grand jury was an allegation by the state's attorney's office that the Department of Children and Family Services had acted wrongly when it returned a child to the custody of his mother, even though the child was scheduled to testify against the mother in a child abuse case.

Also commended was Jerry Lipchik, 3029 Maryville Road, chief bailiff for the grand jury, "for his attitude and cooperation with the grand jury. This made the grand jury's job considerably easier," according to the final report.

It was noted in the outgoing grand jury's report that the various county institutions and buildings were inspected and some deficiencies were found, particularly in the shelter care home.

Wolf, Steele placed in same district

By BILL WINTER of the Press-Record

Two popular local state legislators, Democrat Sam W. Wolf and Republican Everett G. Steele, have been placed in the same new legislative district. Fifty-nine three-member districts are being changed to single-member Illinois House districts.

New boundaries throughout the state were devised by Illinois Democrats, and the local district would appear to favor Wolf, since most local voters are Democrats. However, Steele indicates he will seek re-election in 1982.

Both have been active at various times in the Granite City Board of Realtors, and regard themselves as friends. Despite differing political beliefs, they have worked cooperatively on some legislative initiatives.

Steele has served in the Illinois legislature since being elected in November 1974 and is in his fourth two-year term. Wolf was appointed to the General Assembly Oct. 5, 1975, serving until January 1977, and was elected to two-year terms in 1978 and 1980.

The third local state representative, three-term Democrat Jim McPike of Alton, has been placed in a new district including Alton, Godfrey, Fort Russell Township and Wood River. Both the 111st and 112th districts will be part of the local Illinois Senate district, served by Democrat Sam Vadala.

The new Illinois legislative map was approved Friday by a commission whose ninth member, chosen by a coin toss, is a former Democratic governor, Samuel Shapiro. He defended it as giving both parties a 50-50 chance of winning House control.

Republicans derided the new map as a one-sided "kindergarten picture" and said they will challenge it. House Democratic Leader Michael Madigan of Chicago, who GOP legislators said was mostly responsible for the new map, asserted Republicans "haven't got a case" despite their talk of an appeal to the Illinois Supreme Court.

A technical point that may be raised is the allegation that the map failed to meet a legal requirement that it be disclosed 24 hours in advance of a vote by the commission. A Republican member of the redistricting panel, Rep. Arthur Telser of Chicago, called it "outrageous."

Reached today, Rep. Wolf said he will be a candidate in the Democratic primary next spring.

He said he still feels that it was a mistake to reduce the House of Representatives from 177 to 118 members effective in January 1983, a plan approved by voters in 1980. "I was against the cutback proposal, and I still feel the same way—that it's not going to save the state any money. There will be state representatives, but it will increase the cost of the bureaucracy

LAST-MINUTE HERO. Granite City North's Eric Maass (number 5, in center) is mobbed by teammates after scoring the tying goal against Granite City South Thursday at North's field. Maass scored the goal from 35 yards out with just over a minute to play in the 1-1 deadlock between the two schools, played in front of over

Seek signatures on petition for initiative power vote

An Illinois citizens group is asking Illinois citizens to look across the river to Missouri on the Big Truck issue. Missouri citizens have just filed 160,000 signatures under Missouri's initiative power to stop the Big Truck law. Illinois citizens don't have such a power, and the Coalition for Political Honesty believes they should.

The Big Truck law was passed recently by the Missouri legislature despite widespread opposition from Missouri citizens who contend that bigger trucks on Missouri highways are unsafe and will damage and wear out Missouri roads.

Missouri citizens can file

160,000 signatures and have the people decide at an election if a law is bad," said David Vaught, a Coalition spokesman.

"In Illinois, the legislature has a monopoly on passing bad laws, and that's the period. Illinois citizens simply don't have this right that Missouri citizens value—the right to petition a proposed law onto the ballot for a binding vote."

The Coalition for Political Honesty has gathered over 50,000 signatures to place a constitutional amendment on the ballot to establish an initiative power in Illinois. Now, Illinois citizens can petition for some limited constitutional amendments, but don't have the power to pass laws affecting taxes, safety, utility rates, ethics in government, or any other general laws. The Illinois Legislature passes about 1,000 laws each year.

"The initiative power gives citizens a check and balance when the legislature makes a mistake. With the initiative power, Illinois citizens could correct legislative mistakes just like Missouri voters are doing now on the Big Truck law."

Illinois citizens interested in establishing the initiative power in Illinois can contact the Coalition for Political Honesty at P.O. Box 3070, Fairview Heights, Illinois 62208 for petitions and information or call 618-398-1871.

Dr. Safdar to speak on Hospice

The Collinsville Ministerial Alliance is offering an evening with Dr. Shabbir H. Safdar, speaking on Hospice, and how it serves the people of the community. Dr. Shabbir Safdar is one of the founders of the Hospice of Madison County, which is a program of home care which emphasizes physical, emotional and spiritual comfort for persons with advanced cancer, and for their family members. Emphasis is on care of physical symptoms and other problems associated with this phase of the illness, rather than on cure of the disease. Priority is given to control of symptoms for the patient, and on supportive care for both patient and family members.

Visits to the home by Hospice staff are arranged in a manner permitting flexibility to meet the needs of individual family situations. Close telephone contact is maintained between visits. To assist in emergencies which might otherwise result in hospitalization, an RN is on call at all times.

Dr. Safdar is also an oncologist and Associate Professor of Medicine at Barnes Hospital. He also serves as the medical director of the local hospice program. He has a limited practice in Granite City and is working with different groups throughout the area to help establish programs in other cities.

He feels strongly about the rights of people with a terminal illness. He feels everyone should be given alternatives to being institutionalized at a time when they most need the loving care of their families and their friends. He will explain how this is all made possible through the hospice program and the way hospice cares for the survivors—whose loss takes time and comfort to heal.

The speaker will explain the reasons for establishing this type of program, the advantages of this service to the community, the progress of the program, and referrals are made, some personal stories and he will then show a film on the Hospice program in Boulder, Colorado.

The informational presentation will be held at the First United Presbyterian Church at 201 E. Black Hawk run ends Governor James R. Thompson has announced that he is standing by his decision to halt state funding for the Black Hawk Amtrak train between Chicago and Dubuque, Iowa after Wednesday.

"This was not an easy decision," Thompson said. "But the State just cannot afford to subsidize this train run given Illinois' current fiscal condition."

Thompson noted that the state subsidy, which has been in place for seven years, has grown 90 percent in just two years from $360,000 to $687,000 and that the per capita subsidy provided by the state is double that for other state trains.

"I met last week with interested groups from the area affected and have since talked to the Department of Transportation. The fact is that the communities along this route just have not provided enough passengers to support this train," the governor said, noting that the federal government already has withdrawn its funding for the run.

The Black Hawk was scheduled to stop operation after Wednesday.

An opal may be white, black, orange-red or even transparent but the beauty of this stone is due to flashes of internal color. To show this fire, opals are seldom faceted but are cut with a rounded surface.

As October's birthstone, the opal is recommended especially for pins and pendants. Be sure to see our selection... no obligation.

Fast food items appeal to students

Swept along by the appeal of "fast food" restaurants, Granite City students in a new survey have opted for such items as hamburgers and cheeseburgers (named by 1,746 and 1,648 of 2,776 fourth through seventh graders included in the survey).

French fried potatoes led all vegetables in preference, with 2,498 votes, and ice cream headed the dessert list with 2,480.

Among main dishes, the top vote-getter was pizza, with 2,567, followed by hamburger, 2,480, and cheeseburgers and then fried chicken, 1,621, burritos, 1,607, hot dogs, 1,435, turkey legs, 1,377, fish, 1,063, lasagna, 820, macaroni and cheese, 870, spaghetti, 867, sloppy joe, 853, peanut butter sandwiches, 790, ham and cheese, 693, poor boy sandwiches, 564, beef stew, 490, and macaroni-tomato-beef, 275.

The voting was on "all the foods you would really like to eat included on school lunches."

Other favorite foods named were tacos, soups, currently allowed by law, malts, steak, shrimp, peanut butter squares, cake, "tater tots," watermelon, "real" hamburger, fruit, onion rings and lobster.

How many times a school week would the student want to eat the pizza just tasted? Five days, said 955; four, 182; three, 482; two, 517; one, 211; none in a while, 247; and none, 69.

A total of 1,264 in the survey usually eat school lunches while 1,420 do not, mainly because of cost, 828. Prices jumped to $1.25 effective this fall.

Other negative factors were food quality, 424, preference to bring lunch, 59, inadequate portions, 60, miscellaneous, 46, and preferring to go home for lunch, 31.

Lower prices are desired by 1,420, and would like to have malts offered every day. Despite such concerns, recent studies have shown that the cafeteria workers smile at them, it brightens not only their lunch hour but their whole school day.

Fast food items appeal to students

Extensive damage was caused by smoke and fire to a vacant home at 2401 Iowa St. at 9:50 p.m. Friday. Firemen were at the scene for over two and a half hours. Front porch, living and dining rooms were badly burned and there was extensive "smoke damage" according to a fire department spokesman.

"The house is owned by William W. Harper, 22, Brooklyn, was fined $175 after pleading guilty to theft and Ivory Scott, 35, of 307 Hill St., Eagle Park Acres, was released on a $2,500 recognizance bond after pleading guilty to the same charge in connection with the theft of five blouses and ladies' tops from the Leader Department Store, 19th and State streets, Thursday.

An employee alleged that two men entered the front door of the store, grabbed an assortment of blouses from the first rack inside the door and then ran outside, where they entered a light-colored auto and left east on 19th Street.

The auto's license plate was found to be issued to a Madison man, who was questioned, but released. Police found the car on Logan Street in Venice and arrested Scott and Harper. They allegedly recovered five blouses worth $74.

The fine was imposed on Harper by Associate Judge Thomas Hildebrand at 5:30 p.m. Thursday, and Harper was given 30 days in which to pay. Judge Hildebrand also set the recognizance bond, which does not require the posting of cash bond, for Scott.

Charge two with theft

Neighbors reported that prior to the fire they heard noises, looked out, but could see nothing.

It was also reported that "over two" sounds were heard and then when neighbors looked out again they saw flames at the house.

Cause of the fire is undetermined and a fire department spokesman said an arson investigation is pending. He further noted that on all fires where there is extensive damage an arson investigation is held.

donations of $7,255, or 6.9 percent of the division's goal of $47,000.

Division C vice-chairman Frank McGinnis reported that his group, which solicits from all area governmental employees, has $2,753 pledged, or 6.9 percent of that division's goal of $40,000.

The vice-chairman for Division D, Bill Terrell, reported that $12,779 has been pledged and collected from businesses and commercial establishments, representing 18 percent of the division's goal of $71,000.

The final vice-chairman to report was Terry Seabolt of Division E, which is for industry, construction and transportation workers. Seabolt reported that $40,886 has been pledged in that division, which is only 7.7 percent of the goal of $529,000. However, it was noted, many of the large contributions from local industries have not yet come in, but are expected by the next report meeting Oct. 16.

Eleven "Gold Awards," honoring groups and firms which exceeded their goals under the "Fair Share Giving" program, were announced during the first report meeting. Receiving the awards were Ralph Elliott, representing Shell Oil Co. and its employees; Roslie Stern, representing Illinois Bell Telephone Co.; Sandy Boyer, representing the telephone company's employees; Bill Patton, representing the Granite City (Trust) Bank and its employees; Bill Atkins, representing Mental Health Services of Southern Madison County and its employees; and Christ Paschot, representing Venice Township.

Grants Sheet Metal and its employees also qualified for gold awards, but were not represented at the report meeting and the awards are to be sent to them.

Bill Donovan, United Way President, announced that there are more than 350 volunteers for the United Way in the Quad-City area this year and stated, "I am optimistic we are going to collect the goal this year."

Jim Stack, president of Granite City Steel, was a special guest at the meeting and gave the large number of volunteers present a "pep talk." Stack said, "The old adage of 'Love Thy Neighbor' is lacking. It's a dream." He said that at a time when the national government is shifting some of the responsibilities of caring for the underprivileged to the state and local agencies, it becomes more important that groups such as the United Way help fill the gaps.

"The United Way is honored and respected across the nation. You do not have to apologize when you ask for money for the United Way," Stack stated. "The world is getting very small. We have one big step becoming a United Way volunteer," he added.

He said the government shift of responsibility for the underprivileged is welcome, since states and local governmental agencies should be able to administer the programs more efficiently than Washington. The United Way is much the same. "We control the United Agencies and where our money is spent," Stack commented.

Wilmsmeyer asked all volunteers to seek 60 percent of their goals by the next meeting Oct. 16, one month after the kickoff. "I think we can make that. Go out with determination and let's get it done," he concluded.

Craft classes registration

The Granite City Park District will offer many new craft projects for adults this fall. Enrollment in the various classes will be limited.

Registration for each class may be made in person at the Wilson Park office, starting Tuesday, Oct. 6, and proof of residency must be shown at this time.

The cost of each project will be nominal and must be paid at the time of registration. All craft items will be displayed at the Wilson Park for Rink after Tuesday.

Grand jury

It recommended that the sleeping cots there be replaced by beds with innerspring mattresses, additional outdoor chairs and tables be purchased, the steam radiators be covered, the kitchen be refurbished for better ventilation and new cooking utensils and that a 10-passenger van or bus be purchased to help transport the elderly residents to various functions.

It also found fault in the Madison County Juvenile Detention Home. "The cleanliness of the facility (left) much to be desired and the outside recreation area was in need of maintenance," the report continued.

The new county jail was found to be in good condition, except for roof damage from this summer's tornado, "which is causing high maintenance costs," the report continued.

At the nursing home, replacement of a back stairway to the therapy room was the only recommendation of the grand jury.

The county's Tuberculosis Clinic was given a "clean bill of health" by the grand jury, which commended its rental of an extra office. It recommended that the clinic's programs be given more publicity in the county so that everyone is aware of its offerings.

The report was signed by George McPherson of Cottage Hills, foreman, and was accepted by Circuit Judge A.A. Matosian of Granite City.

Steele, Wolf

that does a lot of the preliminary decision-making.

"I would have preferred to see voters in each area continue to have direct representation by members of the majority party and a member of the minority party."

While Wolf would have liked to see the present 56th District remain intact, he acknowledged that he has "little sympathy" for the Republican map that might have been approved if the GOP's Rick Ogilvie had become the tie-breaking, ninth commission member. That map paired Granite City and East St. Louis, where the legislator is Rep. Wyvetter Young.

Wolf resides in Granite City Township and Steele lives in Glen Carbon, a part of Edwardsville Township.

The new local district also includes Nemo, Venice, Chouteau, Omphigant, Pin Oak, Moro and Hamel townships.

Among the potential casualties of the cutback and the redistricting is Rep. Celeste Stiehl of Belleville, a Republican. An assistant party leader in the House, she will be pitted against Rep. Young, a Democrat.

STEREO AND SPEAKERS
Karan Kramer, 2435 Washington Ave., discovered at 6:15 p.m. Saturday that a stereo and speakers, valued at $200, had been stolen from her residence sometime during the previous evening.

HELD ON WARRANTS
Kevin L. Kattung, 22, of 1004 W. Pontoon Road, was being held in the Granite City jail pending the posting of $504 cash bond. He was observed walking in the area of 32nd Maryville Road at 6:42 p.m. Friday and was arrested on outstanding warrants alleging failure to appear in court and contempt of court.

Lock closures at Alton

The 600 foot main lock at Locks and Dam No. 26, Alton, will be closed during the daylight hours on Oct. 7 to enable government personnel to remove the lower left miter gate lead and replace it with a spare lead.

In addition, the main lock will be closed intermittently during daylight hours on Oct. 6 with closure time amounting to several hours. Closure on Oct. 6 is anticipated on an intermittent basis between 8 and 5 p.m. to remove gate timbers and appurtenant items. A 12 hour a.m. closure is anticipated on Oct. 7 starting at 7 a.m. The 360 foot auxiliary lock will remain open to traffic during the closures. It is requested that all vessel pilots be alert for, and abide by any special instructions which may be issued by the Lockmaster during this period. Cooperation of all interests is essential to the timely completion of these operations and will result in minimal delay to vessel traffic, a spokesman said.

Bell to change pricing policy

Illinois Bell customers are now doing business with an entirely new Bell System, an official of the company told a group of mayors from southwestern Illinois.

Robert D. Allen, vice president and general counsel of Illinois Bell told a meeting of the Southwest Illinois Conference of Mayors in Belleville last week that local exchange service is the only part of the telephone business that is not competitive.

"There is ample evidence everywhere that the way of doing a business has changed," Allen said. "You can buy telephones, switchboards, call directors, private line and even long-distance service from any number of communications companies, large and small."

Stating that the Bell System is being restructured "at this moment," as a consequence of federal regulatory decisions, Allen gave the mayors some insights into the changes which lie ahead.

He said that one unit of the Bell System — a fully separated subsidiary — will be in the business of selling communications systems, equipment and phones to homes and businesses.

Another Bell System unit, still known as Illinois Bell, will sell use of the network to customers for local and long-distance calls.

"In fact, in a short time Illinois Bell will be a telephone company that cannot sell telephones," he said.

A necessary change in pricing policies is one of the aspects of the new competitive situation, Allen said. "In the future, pricing will be based on costs and dictated by market conditions. There is no other way to charge for service in a competitive marketplace," he emphasized.

"Former pricing policies can no longer work," Allen said. "More and more, rates for communications services must relate to the cost the company incurs — service by service, customer by customer."

"Without question, this shift in pricing policies will have an effect on your bill, and you'll notice it. Local service rates will go up."

Allen said that telephone service today is still a bargain and has not gone up nearly as much as the price of other products and services.

But, he added, the move toward cost-based pricing will eventually drive local service revenues to levels equal to local service costs. To put it simply: The only place the money will come from to support local service will be local service itself.

He said the inconvenience and shifts in pricing policies will be balanced by the new benefits which will result from a new way of doing business.

A competitive, market-sensitive industry will mean more rapid introduction of exploring telecommunications technology. The customer will have a wider range of choices for both home and business telecommunications equipment and services."

Allen said the commitment to quality service and to communities the company serves is one thing that will not change.

Germany studied by Travelers Abroad

"Germany along the Rhine" was the topic for the Travelers Abroad first fall meeting last week. There were 29 members present. Miss Dorothy Ruff and Mrs. Thelma Murday were guests.

Mrs. Mary Evangelou, president, conducted a brief business meeting. Walter Klein named the members who passed away this summer and there was a moment of silent prayer in their memory.

Miss Betty Townsend, vice-president in charge of programs, introduced Mrs. Ann Turner, who presented a slide program of "Germany Along the Rhine." Mrs. Turner was born in Germany and now is an American citizen living in Pontoon Beach.

She has been fortunate enough to be able to return to her parents' home in Wiesbaden every year for the past 15 years. On each visit, she adds to her slides, so that her program covers various seasons and years.

According to Mrs. Turner the Rhine starts in Switzerland, but to see the most picturesque sections, one should start his trip either at Mainz or Wiesbaden. Her home town, she said, was built by the Romans who were interested in the 28 thermal springs and their use for curing rheumatism. Wiesbaden is still famous as a spa and is not an industrialized city.

Mrs. Turner showed the beautiful view that she sees from her bedroom at her parents' house and said she is trying to develop that view at her present home. She has planted many flowers and trees, but said she does not know how to get the mountains to our area.

When she first came here, she felt as if she were in prison because we had screens on the windows. In Wiesbaden there are no mosquitos or flies and no one has screens. She said she does appreciate the screens now.

As Mrs. Turner took the group "down the Rhine" with slides from one of the cruise ships, they passed many vineyards clinging to the sides of the mountains. She said it was necessary for the owners to build walls to keep the dirt of the vineyards from washing down the mountainside. If dirt does wash away, the owner must carry the dirt back by his physical labor, because the steepness of the mountains does not allow any machinery to be used in tending the vineyards.

Most of the villages along the Rhine were built between 1400 and 1600. Mrs. Turner called attention to the narrow streets, far too narrow for cars, where neighbors could almost lean out their windows and shake hands across the street. If we were fortunate enough to take a trip on the Rhine, Mrs. Turner said, we should get off the boat and explore. One sees much from the boat but also misses much.

Many castles were passed — both relics of the past and those still wholly intact. At Marksburg is the best-preserved castle. It is supposed to have seven floors underground. Mrs. Turner said it was easy to determine if a castle has a chapel. If it does, the chapel will jut out from the rest of the building. There is never a room above the chapel, because no one walks on the house of God.

The Loreley Mountain was shown and several legends relating to its inhabitants were told. The passable Rhine is extremely narrow here and most boats require an experienced pilot for this stretch of the river. This has helped lend credence to the rumors that abound.

According to Mrs. Turner, anyone tracing his ancestors back to the owners of castles along the Rhine might find that the ancestors were "robber barons" who made a good living robbing the boats on this river. The Pfalz, an island in the Rhine between Bacharach and Kaub, has a castle dating back to the 1300's which was known as the toll gate. Boats passing in either direction were required to pay a toll before they were allowed to continue their journeys. One very interesting slide that Mrs. Turner showed was from a parade in Wiesbaden. A focal point was the convertible that the late President John F. Kennedy was riding in. Mrs. Turner said she did not see former President Kennedy in America, but she saw him in Germany.

At the end of the program, a drawing for an attendance prize was held and the winner was Miss Virginia Segar. Miss Alice Purdes volunteered to check into a location for the group's Christmas party.

She also had an opportunity to attend clinical seminars on 30 different topics and visit more than 100 scientific and 200 technical exhibits.

Courses for seniors increase

In only four years, participation by area senior citizens in non-credit learning experiences offered by the Metro-East Institute of Lifelong Learning has increased more than five times, according to Clyde Fisher, assistant director of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Office of Continuing Education.

The Metro-East Institute of Lifelong Learning is a cooperative venture of SIUE, Belleville Area College, Lewis and Clark Community College, and State Community College, as well as the regional chapters of the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP). Fisher told guests attending the Institute's fourth annual luncheon recently that during the first year of operation four years ago, 448 seniors enrolled in 34 classes at eight locations in the area. In the year just completed, 2,302 persons attended 165 classes at 30 different locations. Fisher said the Institute will offer 77 courses at various locations in the area this fall.

Earl Lazerson, president of SIUE, welcomed the group to the Edwardsville campus. Luncheon guests include representatives from the four area educational institutions and members from area chapters of AARP, as well as senior citizens who have participated in one or more classes.

Officers installed during the annual meeting included: Vernice Walger of Granite City, general chairman; Fred Lewis, Edwardsville, vice chair-

Senior citizens wishing to learn more about the organization should telephone Reba Klenke at 692-3210.

Sponsors note that in the past the PTA Area Council has been able to present only one scholarship each year. Proceeds from the dance, however, will allow a grant to be offered to a senior student at each Granite City high school, it was stated.

Tickets, costing $5 each, include free set-ups, beer, snacks, soda and ice, and are available from each school PTA unit, Branding Service Station, 1103 Niedringhaus Ave., for by calling Bea Stevenson at 931-4219.

Cut heating expenses by using electric blanket

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Home Economics Adviser

One of the easier ways to cut down on the expenses of heating your home during the winter is to turn down the thermostat at night and either throw more blankets on, or use an electric blanket.

Although an electric blanket may look like an ordinary cloth blanket, and certainly it serves much the same warming purpose, its electric components and wiring mean special care must be taken with its maintenance and use.

Manufacturers and testing laboratories recommend that you follow these safety precautions when using an electric blanket:

— Read the manufacturer's instructions thoroughly before using the blanket.

— Don't use the blanket on an infant, helpless person or anyone insensitive to heat.

— Do not tuck in the wired area of the blanket. Overheating can result in the risk of fire between the mattress and the box spring.

— Don't use pins. They may damage the wiring.

— Keep the control away from an open window. A cold draft may affect the operation of the thermostat so that a higher temperature than desired may result.

— If present, use the snaps crimped into the bottom corners to tuck in the blanket.

— Square the corners of the electric blanket neatly as a guide to prevent tucking in any wiring.

— Avoid bunching or folding the blanket when in use to prevent overheating.

— Turn the blanket off when not in use.

— Unless otherwise marked and instructed, do not dry-clean your electric blanket. The solvents used may cause the blanket's insulation to deteriorate.

Always follow the instructions for the care and laundering of your electric blanket.

If you observe a problem in the operation of the blanket, discontinue its use immediately and consult the manufacturer or the dealer.

As with any other electric appliance, periodically check its cords and connectors. Use and the aging process can damage any of these parts.

Use blankets that display the UL listed label — it means that the design of the blanket has been investigated and found to meet nationally recognized safety standards.

Turnaround noted in bank card use

The recent decline in bank charge card business began to ease at the conclusion of the fiscal year ended June 30, 1981, in the trade area, which includes metropolitan St. Louis.

Mastercard and Visa dollar volume increased 28 percent in June, with the number of individual transactions increasing 17 percent.

The new shift in bank card activity was reported in the annual review of Credit Systems Incorporated released on Sept. 30 at the company's annual meeting. CSI is the operating center for Mastercard and Visa in Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Illinois, and Western Kentucky.

For the full fiscal year, the combined volume of both cards was $1,917,095,000 — a new record, but only the percent higher than the previous year. The number of individual retail sales and bank cash advances declined five percent to 34,498,000. The average cardholder transaction was $34, up from $31.19 last year.

The area's bank card program includes 847 Mastercard and Visa banks — up 33 from last year — and 66,000 merchant transactions, serving over 2,000,000 cardholders.

Ter members of the CSI board of directors were re-elected at the meeting. James C. Stewart, executive vice-president, First National Bank of Kansas City, was elected chairman, and Norman J. Tice, president, City Bank, St. Louis, was elected vice-chairman.

New guidelines for supplemental food

New U.S. Department of Agriculture income eligibility guidelines will lower the maximum income limit of people receiving benefits under the Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants and Children.

According to Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Mary C. Jarrett, the new rules will set the maximum income limit at 185 percent of the official poverty line instead of the previous 195 percent of poverty, plus a standard deduction.

"The change will allow more of those at the lower end of the income scale to participate by removing from eligibility some people at the higher income limit," Mrs. Jarrett said. "It is a matter of targeting benefits to those in greatest need can be served."

States may set their own income cutoff limits anywhere between the new federal guidelines and their own limit for free or reduced-price health care. However, income limits may not be set lower than the poverty line.

To qualify for participation in the program under the new federal limits, the annual income for a family of four may not exceed $15,630, or 185 percent of the poverty line. Previously, the same family was eligible for the program with an income, plus a standard deduction, that totaled $17,560.

About 2.2 million participants now receive nutrition education and health benefits from the program, which is administered nationally by USDA's Food and Nutrition Service.

The program provides supplemental foods to pregnant and breastfeeding women and infants and children up to age 5 from families with an inadequate income who are at nutritional risk, Mrs. Jarrett said.

The new rule implements a provision of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981.

The program is operated in cooperation with 50 states, the District of Columbia, the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico and 29 Indian agencies. USDA provides cash grants for the program to state health departments, which, in turn, distributes funds to participants and for specified administrative costs including those for nutrition education.

Three categories of food packages are issued each month. Each package costs USDA about $28 per month. Regulations specify the maximum quantities and types of foods provided. The foods include infant formula, cereal and juice for infants.

Children and pregnant or breastfeeding women may receive milk, cheese, cereal, juice, eggs and dry beans or peanut butter. Non-breastfeeding postpartum women may receive milk, cheese, cereal, juice and eggs. There is also a special package for women with children with special dietary needs which includes formula, cereal and juice.

The new income guidelines for all family sizes for the continental U.S., as well as guidelines adjusted for the cost of living for Alaska, Hawaii, and Guam, were published in the Sept. 25 Federal Register.

Legislation prevents hazardous wastes in landfills after 1987

Governor James R. Thompson has signed legislation that mandates that after January 1, 1987, no hazardous wastes may be deposited in a landfill unless the generator can demonstrate there are no other feasible disposal alternatives.

"Because of the need for the State to take the lead in discouraging land burial of hazardous wastes, I am approving Senate Bill 171, even though I believe the bill has several flaws," the governor said.

Thompson said he is concerned that the bill imposes heavy burdens on both the Environmental Protection Agency and on waste-generating industries to develop the procedures and technical information necessary to carry out the mandate.

The delayed implementation date of the bill will, however, allow representatives of government and industry, as well as environmental groups and interested citizens, to work together to solve these problems and to effect whatever changes may be necessary to carry out the intent of the law. I strongly encourage all concerned to begin this work at once," he said.

Under the measure, the IEPA would be required to review and evaluate each waste generator's demonstration that all the alternatives to landfill disposal have been considered.

The generator would have to demonstrate that the waste cannot be recycled for reuse, incinerated or rendered non-hazardous after considering "technological feasibility and economic reasonableness."

The bill was sponsored by Senators Vince Demuzio of Carlinville, Jim Gitz of Carlinville, John Groberg of Skid Charles and Representative Gary Hannig of Mount Olive.

In other action, Thompson recommended changes in a measure giving local governments more control over the siting of landfills and other waste disposal facilities.

"I strongly endorse the concept of greater local control over the location of waste facilities," Thompson said in his amendatory veto message. "But I believe there are a number of problems with Senate Bill 172."

The bill is intended to apply to off-site treatment, storage or disposal facilities as opposed to those sites where industrial waste stays or is piled where it was generated. The Governor recommended that the definition of "regional pollution control facility" be amended to recognize the distinction between the two.

He also said the identification of new regional pollution control facilities needs to be clarified so that only those sites seeking first-time approval after July 1, 1985, are included in the new law.

In addition, Thompson said he is concerned about the criteria against which local governments are to judge the suitability of a new site. He said it should be fair to both local governments and the industry.

He also suggested that a section allowing counties and municipalities to adopt and enforce pollution control ordinances that are no more stringent than the Environmental Protection Agency's be deleted because it could create confusing and fragmented regulatory requirements for Illinois industry. He also said such language is not directly related to the siting process outlined in the bill.

Finally, he said, it is appropriate to restate the limitation on the material that the Pollution Control Board may consider in its review of an appeal of a local government siting decision. The recommendations now return to the legislature for its consideration.

Board studies building plans

The Madison Board of Education spent time Thursday night at its meeting to review tentative plans and suggestions from Henry K. Gabriel, architect, on the use of the old junior high building on Third Street in Madison.

Although all plans are tentative, the board is depending largely on student need and cost factors:

- widening the gym doors to 10 feet to enable vehicles to get in and out
- convert gym into automotive vocational repair after blacktopping the basketball court.

- convert stage area into an automotive painting area.
- use band room for storage.
- raise floor in shower rooms to use for class rooms available to handicapped.

- but in ramps for handicapped in various parts of the lower level.
- some economics room to be used for home economics, as well as using the general shop room for shop.

It was felt that there is much area on the lower level (basement) for vocational training including electric, welding and plumbing.

The board felt there was ample class room and parking at the old school for Belleville Area College adult classes.

Moving all Title I classes on the second floor was suggested which would give Title I programs more room.

The top floor, the board felt, could be best used as storage area.

The board is studying the architect's drawings and suggested uses and will hold several meetings before deciding on what would be the best route to follow, and get cost figures from the architect.

Superintendent of Schools John Palsch reported that the only windows out at Blair school now are in the multi-purpose room and they were being fixed.

He further noted that the fan on the blower is working and the entire ventilation system is working.

Curriculum Director Dolores Folkerts reported that she visited the new Middle school and was very pleased. She noted that the faculty was using a team approach coordinating teaching plans by grade levels.

She noted that the coordinated drug education program, "Get High on Yourself" worked well and that there are several mini-courses at the middle school that were proving beneficial to the students, but also very interesting and helpful for the Middle school students.

SELECTING CLASSES FOR FALL TERM. Cindy Dorch of Granite City holds her niece, Melissa Curtis, on her lap as she considers the slate of classes she will take at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this fall. Miss Dorch is a sophomore at the University, majoring in nursing.

Small businesses using revenue bonds to finance pollution control

Small businesses across Illinois are financing needed pollution-control equipment through a state and federal program that enables them to raise capital for as little as half the cost of conventional bank loans.

"Two kinds of businesses in the state are taking advantage of this program," said Ronald Bean, executive director, Illinois Environmental Facilities Financing Authority (IEFFA).

"One type is manufacturing or processing companies that need equipment to control pollution caused by their facilities in order to comply with governmental environmental-protection regulations."

"The second is companies whose business is controlling pollution caused by others. A solid waste disposal company is one example."

Under this program, the IEFFA issues revenue bonds on behalf of several small businesses to finance purchase of pollution control equipment, Bean explained.

The Authority lends the proceeds of the bond sales to the companies. Repayment of that loan is guaranteed by the Small Business Administration. And, the Internal Revenue Service exempts interest paid to purchasers of these bonds from federal income tax.

This combination of the tax exemption and the SBA guarantee, which earns for the bonds a AAA rating, produces attractive investment instruments for the underwriter to offer to institutional and private markets.

"With these bonds, companies can raise capital at a reduced interest rate. In addition to this, the repayment is extended to the life of the equipment, usually 20 or more years," Bean added.

"Without this program, a small business obtaining a conventional bank loan would probably pay two or three points above prime interest rate. Under current conditions, this would mean with applications," Bean says. "But we're not sure there are at least two reasons for this."

"First, many small businesses are not aware of the program. Secondly, some business owners who know of the program are leery of an enterprise—no matter how attractive—that involves federal and state agencies, underwriters and lawyers. They fear entangling themselves in unending red tape, consuming time, and incurring huge legal and administrative expenses."

"To be sure, there are complicated forms to be filled out and information to be organized and presented. But, the Authority and underwriter have thorough knowledge of the process and help the company at every step of the way."

"In addition, the Authority waives for small businesses a fee charged for large corporations. These are a $1,000 application fee and an issuance fee, one-fifth of one percent of the bond's face value."

All costs incurred by the company to issue the bond are included in the amount to be financed through the sale of the bonds. In other words, the company raises through the bond not only the money it needs to buy the pollution-control equipment but also the money needed to issue the bonds.

Supplemental insurance changes ok'd by governor

Purchasers of accident and health insurance which is to supplement Medicare benefits now have the right to reject coverage for the deductible amount of Part A, which presently is $204.

This provision was included in changes in Medicare supplement insurance recently signed into law by Governor James R. Thompson.

Another change extended the time to 30 days a purchaser of Medicare supplement insurance has to request a full refund of any premium paid, reported Philip R. O'Connor, director, Illinois Department of Insurance.

Insurance issued to supplement Medicare benefits, after Jan. 1, 1982, may not exclude benefits for pre-existing condition occurring more than six months before the date of the policy, said O'Connor, who noted, "previously the pre-existing condition exclusion had been for two years."

The new law requires payment under Medicare Part B for 20 percent of all Medicare eligible charges, said the insurance director. O'Connor observed previously insurers were required to pay only 20 percent of physicians' charges and he suggested, "the new law requires payment for prescriptions, rehabilitation devices and therapy, as well as other medical care ordered."

Any solicitation to encourage a consumer to switch coverage from one policy to supplement Medicare benefits to another must include giving notice of the possible problems to be encountered, such as restarting the period during which expense for pre-existing condition will be excluded from any benefits paid, noted Director O'Connor.

Health maintenance organizations now come under all requirements for accident and health insurance issued to supplement Medicare benefits, said O'Connor.

Centennial farm program

By Ronald E. Cornwell
Extension Farm Adviser

If you live in Madison County and own a farm, that has been in the family for 100 years, you will be interested in the Centennial Farm Program. The Illinois Department of Agriculture is continuing the program in 1981.

The program proved popular in 1978 and 1979 when 480 farms were designated as centennial farms. Under the Centennial Farm Program, those who can show that their farm has been in the same family for 100 continuous years or more are eligible to receive a centennial sign and certificate.

The Centennial Farm Program is a special recognition for those who have kept the farm in the family for the past century. There is no limit on the number of acres to qualify for the designation.

To qualify, a centennial farm application must be verified by a qualified person, such as a recorder of deeds or a lawyer. If the application is verified, the landowner can receive a centennial farm sign and certificate.

certificates. Cost of the sign is a little over $10.

Applications for the Centennial Farm Sign Program are available at the Madison County Extension office, 900 Hillsboro, Edwardsville.

Student Guest Day at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 17. All high school students interested in attending the University of Illinois College of Agriculture or school of Human Resources and Family studies should consider attending. This is an opportunity to explore some of the many career areas available.

The program begins at 9:30 a.m. with registration for the day. The morning program covers general information about the University of Illinois. The afternoon program includes visits to the various departments in the College of Agriculture and department of Home Economics to explore the various career areas.

For additional information on the program, contact the Madison County Extension office.

large group of destructive plant pests. They can infest leaves, twigs, branches, trunks or fruits of a tree depending on the species of scale. They may seriously retard plant growth and kill shrubs or trees. They are able to develop enormous populations. The removal of sap from a plant by thousands of scales is what causes the damage.

The life cycle of the pest is important to know for successful control. The pine needle scale must be controlled at the time the young move out from under the protective shell of the mother scale in the spring, and before they form a hard protective shell of their own.

You should spray during May to control the pine needle scale. The chemicals suggested for control include malathion, orthene or diazinon. Spraying in the fall of the year will probably not be effective.

Madison County farmers are well aware of the extensive rainfall received this summer in the Madison County area. The rainfall has been one factor in having an extremely good crop year production wise.

The report for St. Louis was 19.84 inches. This was the third wettest summer behind 1915 and 1948.

Depression, age transitions are topics of talks

"Recognizing and Dealing with Depression" is the topic to be featured by Homemakers Extension Association local leaders at a unit meeting tomorrow at noon at Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road.

Bellmoor-Miracle Manor street lights may be shut off due to lack of funds

By MARK RESMANN
The Runkel Township Board was told Monday night that street lights in the Bellmoor-Miracle Manor light district may soon be turned off.

Members of the street light district funding were the problem. The members said last month's power bill, and probably this month's, couldn't be paid. The reason, according to board member Joe Garcia, residents who belong to the district pay 12.5 cents per $100 to the district — the same rate they paid when the district was formed about 25 years ago.

"We have 64 lights and each cost $5.15 per month to light," he said. "When the district started, they were only $2.25 to light."

Because of the increase in power rates, the district is operating with a deficit of about $2,000 this year.

The payroll for the trustees and attorney for the district ($300 per year for the trustees and $400 a year for the attorney) hasn't been met, simply because the funds aren't there.

Township Supervisor Harry Briggs suggested a referendum be placed on the November ballot which would allow Bellmoor-Miracle Manor residents to

"LUMBAGO"

The term "lumbago" is commonly used for any form of low back pain. Actually, lumbago is a form of rheumatism which can be caused by improper lifting, fatigue or over-exertion. It results in severe contraction of one or more of the large muscles of the low back area.

The lumbar vertebrae are supported by muscles and ligaments. Any unbalance of muscle strength may cause a misalignment of these lumbar vertebrae with resultant pain.

Modern chiropractic treatment is aimed at eliminating the cause of pain rather than treating symptoms. Phone for an appointment, your first step toward relief from pain. There is no charge for consultation.

Gateway council plans transit study in area

At its regular monthly meeting, the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council board of directors heard a presentation on the first phase of an analysis of public transit service in the metropolitan area.

The analysis, which is being conducted for the Gateway Council by Multi-Systems, Inc. and Management Analysis Center, Inc., compares the Bi-State Development Agency with six other public transit systems which operate in similar-sized metropolitan areas and which are similar in character to Bi-State.

The presentation included an analysis of Bi-State's corporate structure as well as its performance in the areas of costs, effectiveness, maintenance, efficiency, expenses and internal management. The report also examines regional public transportation service needs and offers options for future transit financing.

Acting on recommendations of the Council's CBD Bridge Committee, the board withdrew its proposal to create an interstate bridge commission, opting instead to work through existing entities to solve the downtown Mississippi River bridge problems.

Be sure to exercise, but don't overdo it

By MARY RICHARDS

Our ancestors fell into two classes: those who did hard, physical labor and those who led mostly sedentary lives. It was from studies conducted on our parents and grandparents (and from studies continuing to this day) that we realized that, while modern technology is changing our lifestyle, it is not changing our nature.

When our jobs and other duties do not provide us with enough physical activity to maintain good health, then we should engage in some planned activity.

So, you have decided to begin a physical fitness program. Where do you start? The Illinois Department of Public Health has some tips that will help you begin your exercise program safely. First of all, and of utmost importance: begin slowly. A cardinal rule is, "Be able to talk while you are exercising." If you are breathing so hard that you can't talk, or if you start wheezing, you're exercising too hard. However, to get a good workout, you should exercise hard enough so that you breathe heavily and work up a nice sweat.

If, during your exercise period, you experience nausea, trembling, extreme breathlessness, pounding in the head, or pain in the chest — stop immediately. These symptoms indicate that you have reached the limits of your exercise tolerance. If the symptoms persist beyond the point of temporary discomfort, check with your physician.

Is it a good idea to exercise with a partner? Well, yes and no. Yes — if it helps you stick to a regular schedule, or if you enjoy the fun of being in a group. But it is not a good idea if you turn it into a contest. In fact, you should not try to become competitive unless you are in top physical condition.

A good exercise program consists of three parts — warm-up, peak activity and cool down. Each is equally important.

The warm-up exercises will increase your respiration and body temperature. These activities include stretching, bending, reaching and range of motion exercises.

A peak activity is one that works the heart and lungs in.

Bruce Cook to speak at SIUE

Colorful trial attorney, Bruce Cook, will be a guest speaker Thursday, Oct. 8, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Bruce Cook, a criminal and civil trial lawyer in Belleville with a state-wide reputation, will discuss the highlights of his career and the methods he has found useful in the courtroom. Cook's cases have ranged from the successful defense of the police chief in Collinsville to winning one of the largest damage suits in the area, a $15.6-million judgment against a farm machinery manufacturer.

The attorney began his education at SIUE and served as president of the Student Senate in 1962-63 before completing a law degree at the University of Illinois in 1966. The program, open to the public at no charge, begins at 10:30 a.m. in Goshen Center, sponsored by Student Legal Services at SIUE.

Luehmann-Basarich

The wedding of Miss Sue Basarich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Basarich, and Greg Luehmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Luehmann, all of Granite City, was solemnized Aug. 21 at Nameoki United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Gene Seamen performed the 6 o'clock evening service.

An organ and piano prelude was played by Phyllis Talley and Eunice Seamen. Mrs. Marilyn Berniax sang "Sunrise, Sunset, 'One Hand, One Heart'" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an A-line gown of white knit chiffon over taffeta, designed with a Queen Anne neckline and scattered with seed pearls.

The sleeves of pleated chiffon were gathered into re-embroidered lace cuffs and the skirt had matching lace trim encircling the scalloped hem and cathedral train. A front panel was enhanced with Venice lace motifs and seed pearls.

Her Juliet Cap of Venice lace, re-embroidered with tiny flowers, secured a fingertip veil of lace and illusion and she carried a cascade of silk roses and miniature carnations, accented with daisies in pastel shades, baby's breath and greenery.

Honor attendant was Deanna Orris and the bridesmaids were Patty Basarich, cousin of the bride, Linda Stone, Kelly Smith, Beth Harp and Chris Clay.

All wore identically fashioned gowns, with pleated skirts, cowl necklines and Grecian

The usher corps included Earl, Carl and Eric Luehmann, also the groom's brothers, Joe Basarich, the bride's brother, Steve Basarich, her cousin, and Larry Burns.

The bride's mother selected a full length gown in a plum shade with a flowered cape. Mrs. Luehmann, mother of the groom, wore a long pale blue gown with a pleated skirt and matching capelet. Both mother had corsages of silk flowers in complementary colors.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at The Round Table. After the ceremony, guests were received at Englebert Hall in Madison. Laurie Herms attended the guest book.

The bride, a 1980 graduate of Granite City High School North, is attending Southeast Missouri State University at Cape Girardeau, Mo. Her husband, a 1979 graduate of North High, also is at Southeast Missouri.

Following a honeymoon at Daytona Beach, Fla., the newlyweds are now residing in Cape Girardeau.

AMERICA'S WHAT ?! St. Louis Cardinal wide receiver Dave Stief celebrates after picking up a first down on a fake fourth down punting situation late in the game Sunday. The

Fired-up Cards dump Dallas, 20-17

By PETE HAYER,

ST. LOUIS — There was joy here in Beer Town Sunday night. And for good reason. For the first time in seven meetings, the local boys had beaten the Dallas Cowboys.

America's team.

St. Louis football Cardinal placekicker Neil O'Donoghue kicked a 37-yard field goal with 22 seconds remaining Sunday to give the Big Red a 20-17 upset victory over the previously undefeated Cowboys. It was the first St. Louis victory over Dallas in seven meetings.

The celebrating began even before the final gun on the St. Louis sideline. But the din in the Cardinal locker room was almost deafening. "We did it! We did it!" shouted Dave Stief. "We beat America's team!"

Linebacker Tim Kearny stood atop a bench in the locker room. He held his jersey, wet with perspiration, in his huge left hand. In his right hand, a football. "We got together, and couldn't decide who to give the game ball to," he shouted. "So we're giving everybody a game ball!"

Albert an old cliché, Sunday's victory by the Big Red was indeed a team effort. Quarterback Jim Hart passed for 199 yards. Receiver-defensive back-kick returner Roy Green led the team in reception yardage and made a spectacular one-handed touchdown pass in the back of the end zone. Stief, who was in formation to block on a fourth down punt late in the game, picked up a crucial first down when the ball was snapped to him on a fake punt. Rookie linebacker E.J. Junior made some crunching hits on Dallas runners.

And then there's O'Donoghue.

Besides kicking the game-winning field goal, he booted a 19-yard field goal, added two extra points and recovered a fumble by Cowboy James

Jones on the opening kickoff that led to the Cardinals' first touchdown.

Was O'Donoghue nervous. "Not really, maybe a little," he said quietly. In the roar of the locker room celebration, his voice was barely audible. "I was kind of afraid there might be a penalty on the play and it would wipe out the field goal." Last week against Tampa Bay, O'Donoghue kicked a 47-yarder that was wiped out when teammate Calvin Favron was called for kicking an opponent.

What was O'Donoghue doing so deep in Dallas territory when he recovered the fumble. "If you stay back and try to cover the faster returners one-on-one, who don't have a chance," he said. "I saw they were covered on the outside, so I went downfield." He recovered the fumble at the Cowboys' nine-yard line. The Cardinal players to a one were celebrating in the locker room. "Who's that said the birds couldn't fly?" shouted Tom Braham, the Cardinals' center. "We did, didn't we?"

Dan Dierdorf, the All-Pro tackle for the Big Red has seen victories over Dallas before. He's been around that long, going back to the team's glory days under then-head coach Don Coryell. "It was a helluva win," he said. "We played together today. We did things right. We didn't miss tackles like before."

Before. That was three weeks ago in Dallas when the Cowboys handed the Big Red a 30-17 defeat. Topy Dorsett

'So-so' Saturday for Granite City prep kickers

By TERESA GULL,
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — It was a so-so day for Granite City's prep soccer teams Saturday. At South, Quincy Notre Dame's Raiders played the Warriors to a 0-0 tie, while at North, the Steelers easily took care of Cahokia 3-0.

SOUTH

North-South, Pg. 19

Granite City South head soccer coach Gene Baker was not at all pleased with South's play Saturday afternoon.

"I don't care for a tie. That's two in a row," Baker said, referring to South's tie with Granite City North Thursday afternoon. "I'm not pleased with our game from a general team standpoint. Maybe it was due to Notre Dame's effectiveness."

Neither Notre Dame or South dominated play throughout the game, but Notre Dame's strategy was to contain the Warriors.

"I felt overall we did pretty well with that," Al Kneppeler, Notre Dame head coach said. "My kids are as happy as if they had won the game."

It was the sixteenth straight quarter Notre Dame has not allowed a goal to be scored. Notre Dame has never beaten South in soccer.

An obstruction penalty against Notre Dame late in the second overtime almost gave South the victory but South's kick was deflected wide to the left. Notre Dame posed no serious threats in the overtimes but seemed content in playing a defensive game and preserving the tie.

South outshot the Raiders 16-9 and held a 10-1 edge in corner kicks. Even though South dominated in offensive statistics, Baker was not happy with his team's shot selection.

Four minutes into the third quarter,

South's David Paz almost pushed the ball into the net but Notre Dame's keeper dove to his left to save the goal. South almost scored again in the fourth quarter but Scott Vickers couldn't get the ball past Notre Dame's defensive corp.

Both teams played a fast paced game

MADISON'S Danny Stern (dark jersey) struggles for additional yardage Saturday afternoon while in the grasp of Columbia's Jeff Essel. The action came during an 18-play Madison

For the Press-Record

After the Madison Trojans upset the Columbia Eagles 14-0 in a Quad-County Conference game at Madison Saturday, Madison linebacker John Chatman remembered what Columbia did to the Trojans last season.

"It was a heartbreaker, losing 69-0," Chatman said. "We just wanted to play our hearts out and go get it for the coaches. After we got our first touchdown, the defense stayed up and wanted it. We knew we were capable playing well and beating them."

the defense were responsible for the Trojan victory.

Although Columbia gained four more total yards than Madison, the Trojan defense forced the Eagles to lose yardage on 14 plays.

"We've worked hard this week for this game,"

Madison coach Al Vonderhaar said. "I don't know of any other team around who works as hard as we do.

"I thought we beat them off the ball," Vonderhaar said. "We made a couple silly mistakes and made a lot of penalties, but I didn't mind the penalties because they were aggressive penalties."

According to Vonderhaar,

this is the first time the Trojans have shut out a team in five years. "I'm very happy. We jumped ahead 8-0, and we held them."

Madison scored on the opening series of the game with a 18 play, 77 yard drive. Senior running back Willie

Ball, who rushed for 46 of those yards, scored the touchdown — a six yard run with 6:04 left in the quarter. Danny Stern caught quarterback Mark Zarr's pass for the extra point to give the Trojans an 8-0 lead. Madison ran its successful running plays in that series to the left. There was a good reason for that, according to Vonderhaar. "That's all we do is run left. We run that way because that's where they're going to have to beat us."

South can't cope with Cahokia, Blackman

By TERESA GULL of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — It was just too much Stacey Blackman here Friday night. And as a result, Granite City South is still searching for its first victory of the season following Friday night's 34-12 loss to Cahokia.

Blackman, Cahokia's phenomenal running back, rushed for 181 yards to pace the Comanches' attack. Teammate Larry Thompson didn't do too badly, either. He rushed for 103 yards.

South had the same problems it has had all season — a lack of defense, an unbalanced offensive attack and too many errors. Head coach Jerry McKechnan gave no excuses for the defeat.

"We didn't play very good. We didn't play with the intensity we played with the week before in a narrow 27-22 loss to GEC rival Edwardsville, which upset Alton Friday," McKechnan said. "We're disappointed. We'll get better."

South could have gone in at halftime trailing only 14-6, but Cahokia's Stacey Blackman scored on an 18 yard screen play just before the quarter ended.

You go in at half-time after that and it's hard to get excited," McKechnan said. Cahokia was leading 14-0 in the second quarter when South scored on a 10 yard pass from John Linhart to Joe Schnefke.

The two point conversion failed. That was the closest South ever got.

South's other touchdown came in the third quarter on a 67 yard pass from Linhart to George Diak. The two point pass conversion failed.

Cahokia dominated the game offensively, rolling up a total of 483 yards in a balanced offensive attack. Two Cahokia running backs carried the ball for over 100 yards.

Stacey Blackman ran for 181 of those yards while teammate Larry Thompson rambled for 103 yards. Quarterback Aaron Jones also passed for 142 yards.

McKechnan was high on his praise for Blackman. "He's the best back in the area. He's fast. We didn't contain him."

Despite Friday's loss which dropped South to 0-2 in the Gateway East Conference and 4-4 overall, McKechnan is confident his team can make a comeback.

"I still feel we're in it. I feel we can beat anybody in this conference," McKechnan said. "We're going to change this thing around. I've got confidence in them. We'll bounce back."

The win raised Cahokia's record to 1-1 in the Gateway East Conference and to 3-1 overall. The Warriors will go searching for their first victory next Friday when they host first place Granite City North at 7:30 p.m. in their annual homecoming game.

drives before the touchdown. we fumbled and DePew recovered the football. Those are the lapses you've got to recover from, but we didn't," Schott said.

The Crusaders had several chances to score, but could capitalize on only one. In the fourth quarter, Althoff recovered a fumble at the North 43. The Crusaders used three long running plays to get to the Steelers' five yard line. Halfback Chris Demick ran around the right tackle for the touchdown with 9:46 left in the game.

Althoff went for the tie rather than the lead at that point, but a fumbled snap cost them the extra point and the game.

Althoff squandered several more chances to score before and after the touchdown. The aborted scoring attempt that hurt the most came at the end of the first half.

The Crusaders started their drive at their 26 and used the skills of end Steve Hill to get into scoring range. With the ball on North's 49, Hill caught a pass to move the ball to the Steelers' 24 yard line. Hill caught another pass to put the Crusaders 12 yards away from a touchdown.

Another pass from Kenny Hill to Hill apparently put the Crusaders on the one yard line, but an illegal receiver downfield for the Crusaders brought the ball back to the 27.

On the next play, Kenny tried a pass to Kevin McFarland, but McFarland was called for offensive pass interference to push the ball back to the 43 yard line. To compound Althoff's misery, illegal procedure was called to force the ball back to the North 48 yard line.

Again, the breaks didn't go to Althoff. In the fourth quarter, with four and two yards to go on the North 29, the Crusaders were called for clipping to force Althoff to punt rather than sustain the drive.

Althoff was forced to call three of its time outs on North's next possession, and the Crusaders got the ball back with 35 seconds left to go.

The lack of time outs forced Althoff to pass towards the sidelines. The first pass was clearly incomplete. The second pass was thrown perfectly to Hill, but the officials ruled he did not have possession of the ball in bounds.

Despite a protest by the Althoff coaching staff, the call stood. On the next play, Kenny threw an interception to Allen Frenkel that insured North's win.

"I don't want to comment about the calls," Schott said. "We've got to be man enough to be a team enough to overcome those obstacles."

Both teams made mistakes, but we came up with the big plays," Wyrostek said.

"We played good defense most of the night," Wyrostek said. "If you look at the size of their tight end (Hill), you'd see we'd have to battle to keep him from getting the ball. You have to give our back credit for controlling Hill like they did."

"The boys on both teams hit hard," Wyrostek said. "When you have people hitting as hard as the kids tonight, you're bound to have some turnovers."

Althoff did gain more yards than the Steelers, 235-168, but the defense — and the breaks — stopped the Crusaders.

"The boys did a super job on defense," Wyrostek said. "We've always been a ball control club, but we didn't control the ball that well with a 7-0 lead."

Both teams committed three turnovers, two fumbles and an interception, but the big difference was in the penalties. Althoff was called five times for 53 yards while North was penalized just once for five yards.

Althoff is the defending GEC and Class 4A state champion.

"Both teams made mistakes. We didn't expect that many mistakes, and I know Glenn didn't expect that many mistakes either. But they're 15-7 year olds, and they're going to make mistakes."

SIU-E alumni meet

EDWARDSVILLE — A social gathering of alumni and friends of the athletic department at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The get-together, which will begin at 7:30 p.m., will feature a report on athletics and athletic facilities at SIUE from Athletic Director Eldon Bigham, as well as a formal introduction of the Cougars' new head basketball coach, Tom Pugliese.

Bigham is expected to give a progress report on the new $11.8-million Multipurpose Building, as well as look ahead to the 1981-82 sports calendar. Pugliese, who spent the past seven years as an associate basketball coach at Washington State University, will probably reflect on the newly-generated optimism that has been circulating about the future of the basketball program at SIUE.

It is also expected that several other SIUE coaches will be present for questions about their programs and reports on the upcoming seasons.

The evening of socializing, which includes a wine and snack bar, is open and free to all SIUE boosters. A cash bar will also be available.

North golfers win first GEC crown

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City North golf team laid claim to the Gateway East golf championship here Thursday afternoon with a stunning 13-stroke victory in the GEC Tournament at Arlington Golf Club. The tournament was played in a driving wind.

Captain Russ Chappell's Steelers golfers outdistanced runnerup Belleville Althoff 322-345 for the crown. Granite City South was third with a 349 and defending champion Edwardsville was fourth with a 353. Cahokia does not have a golf team.

"It was a pleasant surprise," said Chappell. "We really didn't expect to win it by so many strokes. We thought it'd be a real dogfight."

Edwardsville had been the only champion the GEC had known until Thursday. The Tigers had won the crown the first two years of the conference's existence. In fact, they defeated North Wednesday by one stroke.

North's Gordon Williams was the individual medalist with an 81. Althoff's Kevin Arcynski and Chris Damstorf were second and third, each with 82s. Pat Early of North was fourth with an 83 and Larry Holder of Granite South was fifth with an 84. Scott Ennis and Billie Early of North were sixth and seventh, also with 84s.

"That wind was fierce," said Chappell. "Our philosophy with the wind was to keep it under one's nose. I told them four 82s would win it. It was close."

North will host the IHSA District Tournament at Arlington next Thursday, Oct. 8. "I hope we're peaking at the right time," said Chappell. "We're playing well right now."

Miller Bowling meet begins in all states

MILWAUKEE — The $125,000 Miller High Life National Doubles Bowling Tournament began its third season Sept. 15 in 50 states as amateur bowlers attempt to qualify for the national finals in Reno, Nev.

The qualifying competition, which will be held in selected bowling centers throughout each state, will continue until Dec. 1. State and regional finals will be contested Dec. 1 through Jan. 17 with the grand finale slated Feb. 19-21 at the MGM Grand Lanes in Reno, Nev. "We expect to easily break last year's record of 200,000 participants," said William B. Lacy, president of the Bowling Proprietors Association of America (BPA).

"We've got the biggest doubles tournament in the country and we should break the record handily. In 1980 this tournament had a tremendous impact on the amateur bowlers around the nation," said Thomas B.

Shropshire, senior vice president and treasurer of the Miller Brewing Company. "Amateur bowlers found out they didn't need a 200 average to do well in this tournament. I think that's why this year's tournament will be even bigger."

Last year, Wayne Thompson and Bill Smith of Houston staged an amazing comeback during the two-day finals and rolled through the championship game to win the $50,000 first prize.

Cougars sign cager

EDWARDSVILLE — Just when it looked as if the best high school and junior college basketball talent had already been signed to playing letters of intent and enrolled at universities throughout the country, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's new head basketball coach, Tom Pugliese, has inked 6'11" senior college transfer Jeff Dean.

Dean, a native of Pittsburgh, Penn., comes to SIUE with an outstanding prep career at Central Catholic High School (GCHS) and two all-star campaigns at Allegheny Park Community College.

Again, prep standout in his senior year, Dean led his team to a 21-4 record while averaging over 16 points per game. Following his final high school season, Dean earned All-Catholic League and All-Sec. Four honors, as well as being selected to the Pittsburgh Press "Finest 20."

A winning tradition followed Dean as he enrolled at Allegheny. Sparking the team to a 25-6 record as a freshman and a 26-2 record last year, Allegheny earned the second spot in the national junior college polls throughout the 1980-81 season.

As a freshman, Dean averaged 13 points per game and earned a spot on the first team of the All-Skyline Athletic Conference squad. His sophomore year, after averaging 15 points and seven assists per game, Dean repeated his All-Conference honor and was named to the first team of the All-Region 20 junior college team.

Following the signing, Coach Pugliese commented, "Jeff is a valuable addition to our program here at SIUE. He comes from an outstanding background and has been well coached. He has also had the opportunity to play against high level of competition in junior college which should help him make the adjustment to our program. He is a fierce competitor with outstanding size, strength and should make a valuable contribution to the Cougars during the 1981-82 season."

Cahokia had only one shot on the goal about his offense.

Vonderhaar indicated the Trojans are coming around after a late start. "We have a

Steelers tie Warriors with late goal

PAUL BARRINGTON of Granite City North (in white) gets set to let go with a booming shot in the last ten seconds of his team's game at home with Granite City South. Barrington's 35-yard shot hit the goal post and let the teams in a 1-1 tie. It was the second tie of the season between the two teams and virtually assured the two of being co-champions of the Gateway East Conference.

North's Ames leads junior varsity quietly

By TERESA GULL
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — David Ames is a quiet figure on the Granite City North soccer bench.

Ames, the assistant soccer coach, is usually found kneeling "or squatting on the sidelines, his pipe clenched tightly between his teeth.

Outwardly, with his stoic expression and quiet manners, he appears calm and unemotional. It is all an acting job.

"Inside it rolls up. It gets tight," Ames said. "I don't show a lot outside."

Ames's coaching style follows the same pattern.

He's not a "rah-rah" coach who gives before, during and after the game pep talks. He would rather spend his time planning and explaining strategy.

Ames's philosophy stems from his introduction to soccer. He had his first exposure to the sport in a physical education class at Illinois State. Since he had never played, he read soccer books to get a better understanding of the sport.

He enjoyed the game and in 1972, he took the assistant soccer coaching job at what is now Granite

City South and also started playing soccer in city leagues. When Granite City North opened in 1973, he moved to the assistant's job, there under head coach Bob Kehoe.

Since his main responsibility is coaching the junior varsity team and preparing them for varsity play, Ames follows many of the same coaching patterns as Kehoe. Still, he finds the job challenging.

"Trying to get the kids to understand the game, the strategy of it, how it should be played is difficult," Ames said.

"It is very much, a thinking game. You have to think when you're on your feet, on the move. You have to think on your own to create something."

A history teacher and the track coach at North, Ames was a walk-on football player at Illinois State. He became injured his freshman year and decided to give up the sport. Now he considers soccer his first love.

He would like to be a head soccer coach either at the high school or college level, but he wants to make sure he is thoroughly prepared.

"A little more experience here with Bob and I think I would take it," Ames said. "I could always learn more." Ames said Kehoe has taught him how to read the game and see the patterns developing and the holes opening. He now tries to teach his players this same strategy.

It is a task he sometimes finds difficult but when the players do understand, he finds an immediate reward. It is, this immediate feedback which motivates him to coach.

"You can see them learn something, see a light go on," Ames said. "It's frustrating at times but when it clicks..."

When it clicks, Ames knows all his time and effort is more than worthwhile.

DAVID AMES

Bills upset Indiana

ST. LOUIS — The St. Louis University soccer Billikens upset second-ranked Indiana 1-0 Friday night here at Francis Field. But Sunday, the Bills were held to a scoreless tie with Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

Goalie Pat Baker, a freshman from Riverview Gardens, recorded the shutout against Wisconsin, his third in a row. The Bills led in shots 21-14.

Friday night's game marked the first meeting of SLU freshman sensation David Fernandez from Granite City South and Indiana midfielder Mark Goldschmidt, a senior from Granite South. The two were teammates on South's 1977 state championship squad, the second of five straight for the Warriors.

The Billikens' next game will be Tuesday night at home when they host North Texas State at Francis Field at 7:30.

COLLINSVILLE — The Metro-East Lutheran High Knights ran their soccer record to 8-3 here Tuesday afternoon with a 3-1 victory over Roxana at Van Fossen Field.

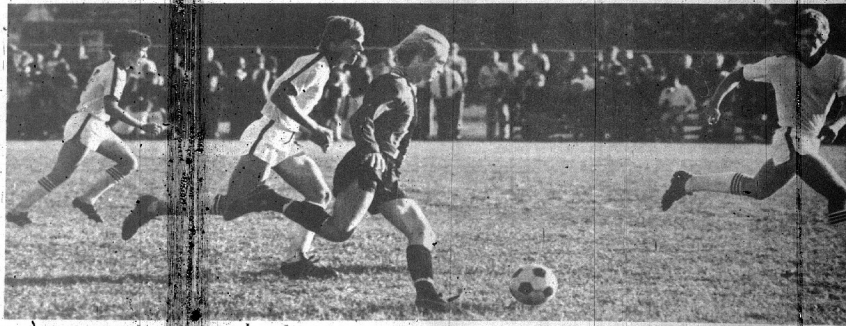

Lutheran High, playing its second season of varsity competition, broke away from a 1-1 tie with two goals late in the game by Cliff Dellamano.

Lutheran took a 1-0 lead in the third quarter on an unassisted goal by Tim Trampe at the 46:00 mark. But Roxana came back to tie the game with an unassisted goal of its own a 57:54 in the third period.

The Knights took the lead for good with just under three minutes remaining in the game when Dellamano scored off an assist from teammate Steve Cummins at the 77:32 mark. Dellamano scored an insurance goal off another assist from Cummins with five seconds remaining in the game.

Lutheran goalie Doug Rankin, from Venice, made seven saves in the nets. Roxana also had seven saves. The Knights outshot the Shells 33-18 and had a 7-6 edge in corner kicks. Roxana was whistled for 12 fouls, Lutheran High for 10.

"The game was a tie because of an excellent shot," said South coach Gene Baker. "There's not much you can do about a shot like that! It was a beauty."

Maass's shot was one of the few good chances the Steelers had in the game. But thanks to a stingy defense, they were able to hold their own against what seemed to be an almost constant onslaught by South. "I think we had the better of the play," said Baker. "We had plenty of scoring opportunities."

"But that wind, it was a factor. A funny factor, though."

Indeed, in the first quarter, South had the wind to its back and scored what for 79 minutes appeared to be the only goal of the game. At the 9:09 mark, Scott

Vickers took a pass from teammate Billy Hency and boomed a low shot that went across the goalmouth and into the left corner of the net, past a diving North goalie.

Rich Branding, who had come out to try and cut off the angle.

"They (South) had a lot of good opportunities," said North coach Bob Kehoe. "Early on, we did a lot of standing around. I'm not sure what it was. But we picked things up more later in the game."

"Just six inches lower on Paul's shot, and we win the game. But you could say that on some of their plays. Just a little better control of the ball and they've got one, maybe two more goals."

Vickers had two more good opportunities to increase the South lead in the second quarter. But both shots were stopped by Branding.

North's best scoring chance before Maass's late goal came at the 11:50 mark of the first quarter when Benny Nolan fired a point-blank shot from five yards out that LeMaster made a kick save on. "Joe played a good game," said Baker. "He was talking most of the time. But a couple times he was indecisive."

"But on Maass's goal, there was nothing he could do."

One of South's better scoring chances came at the 18:30 mark of the fourth quarter when Timmy O'Toole, the transfer from Rosary High, made a length-of-the-field run with the ball and fired a shot that Branding was able to stop. At 10:30, Vickers passed to teammate Ed Cowley who fired the ball just wide. He had an empty net staring him in the face.

The strong winds sometimes played tricks with the ball, almost acting like an extra defender. "Without the wind, it's a different game," said Kehoe. "It could have been different for both teams."

The game drew the typical North-South soccer hoopla — and the temps. At 8:36 of the third period, Baker was shown a yellow card for saying something he shouldn't have to a referee.

Run draws 25,000

ST. LOUIS — More than 25,000 runners from 12 states have signed up for the third annual Natural Light Stadium Run which begins at 11:30 a.m. Sunday, Sept. 27, prior to the start of the St. Louis Cardinals-Pittsburgh Pirates baseball game at Busch Memorial Stadium.

Runners competing in the race are given a head start based on their age and sex. The race starts on the south side of the stadium with participants running south on Broadway to the Anheuser-Busch Brewery and returning to Busch Memorial Stadium. The finish line is inside the stadium at the second base area.

The Natural Light Stadium Run is expected to be the largest run this year in St. Louis.

Cougars lose Cup to Eastern on tie-settling penalty kicks

CHARLESTON, III. — The SIU-Edwardsville soccer Cougars gave up their claim to the Governor's Cup here Saturday when they lost on penalty kicks to host Eastern Illinois University 5-4 in the championship game.

It marks the first time in six years that the Cougars do not win the Cup.

The game ended in a 1-1

tie. And after two 10-minute overtime periods, it was still tied. In order to play off and determine a tournament champion, each team was given five penalty kicks. Eastern made all five of its shots, but the Cougars missed one of theirs.

The game will go into the record books as a tie. That gives the Cougars a 6-2-1 record, while Eastern is 6-1-1. SIU-E was ranked 11th in the latest NCAA Division I poll, while EIU was ranked seventh.

Eastern's Panthers got on the scoreboard first when Damien Kelly scored in the first half. But SIU-E's Bill Stalling took a pass from teammate Tony Gauvain with only 4:30 remaining in regulation play to tie the score.

A brawl erupted in the second half when Stalling was tackled from behind by an Eastern player after he had a break-away at the Panthers' goal. Both benches emptied and three players were ejected.

IN LOVING memory of ROXANNE BOSWORTH, Oct. 4, 1964. There is a mother who misses you sadly and finds the time long since you went. And I think of you daily and hourly, but try to be brave and content. But the tears that I shed in silence and liberate a sigh of regret, for you were mine, and I remember, though all the world forget. — Sadly missed by Mom and Dad and all who loved her. 32 10 5

Organ Pedalers hold election

The September meeting of the AAOI Organ Pedalers was held at the National School of Music, 2100 Cleveland Blvd.

In the absence of the grand pedaler, Henry Coleman; and the great organist, Dorothy Alsop; the great composer, Carolyn Bell, presided over the meeting. Carolyn Bell told the members about a Craft Festival to be held in Highland on Dec. 5 and 6 and it was decided that the organ club would participate. Members will donate hand-crafted items and the proceeds will go to the organ club treasury.

A report on the June meeting and the club playing for the senior citizens was written up in the Encore, an international paper put out by the AAOI. This was passed around for everyone to read.

Election of officers was held and the results were: Betty Applegate, grand pedaler; Jeanne Dorsey, great organist; Dorothy Alsop, great composer; and Carolyn Bell, great organist. Management seminar set

A management seminar to improve the office functions a computer cannot help is scheduled Oct. 14-15 by the Center for Management Studies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

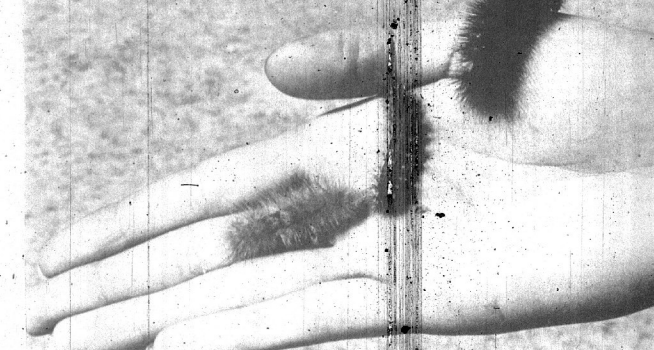

James F. Miller, Center director, said the workshop will help managers evaluate and redesign their work and help personnel improve their work. Robert A. Schultheis, business education professor at SIUE and seminar leader, will concentrate on analyzing the office layout, its procedures and forms for greater efficiency. He will also work with managers in making decisions on priorities, time and delegation and handling day-to-day office problems.

Schultheis is a co-author of 10 books and other articles on office work and has directed seminars for the U.S. Civil Service and the Center. He is also a member of the St. Louis chapter of the Administrative Management Society and a former member of the board.

The workshop meets at 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. daily in Building III, Room 3336, on the Edwardsville campus. Tax deductible fees, including luncheon and all meeting materials, are $225. For additional information or to complete registration, interested persons may contact Barbara Woods at 618-692-5668. A related seminar on office automation and technology will be presented Oct. 20-22 at the same location.

Statement must support loan requests

To comply with new Federal guidelines which became effective Oct. 1, students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville who plan to apply for Illinois Guaranteed Loans must have an A.C.T. Family Financial Statement on file in the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance or have completed a "needs test" form.

According to John P. Jenneken, director, applicants whose family adjusted gross income (including the income of the student applicant) for 1980 was less than $30,000 will qualify for the loan.

Where the figure exceeds $30,000, Jenneken said the eligibility for the loan will be determined by a "needs test." Forms for the "needs test" will be available in the SIUE Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance approximately Oct. 7.

Additional information concerning scholarships, loans, and other financial assistance may be obtained by telephoning 692-3880.
